

English octagonal Lambeth delft plate, circa 1740 POA

English octagonal Lambeth delft plate, circa 1740, of tin-glazed earthenware, decorated in the centre with a keyhole cartouche in reserve, painted in blue with a perching bird amongst flowers and foliage, surrounded by eight further fan shaped cartouches containing floral sprays, all against a powdered manganese-purple ground.

Dimensions:

Diameter: 18.5cm. (7 1/4in.)

Condition:

Rim chip

Notes:

For further reading see Aileen Dawson, English and Irish Delftware, London: The British Museum, 2010

Material and Technique	Pottery with underglaze blue decoration and powdered manganese ground
Origin	British
Period	18th Century
Condition	Very good
Diameter	18.5cm. (7 1/4in.)

Antique ref: W774