

A pair of 18th century South Staffordshire, probably Bilston, enamel table candlesticks
POA

A pair of 18th century South Staffordshire, probably Bilston, enamel table candlesticks with domed and lobed bases, knopped stems and scalloped drip-pans, decorated with brightly coloured flower sprays and royal blue reserves with raised gilt flowers, height: 17cm. (6 11/16in.); condition: restoration to the enamels

Notes:

A similar candlestick can be found in the collection of the National Trust at Blickling Hall, Norfolk (NT 355079)

Material and Technique	Enamel candlesticks
Origin	British
Period	18th Century
Dimensions	Height: 17cm. (6 11/16in.)

Antique ref: W363