

Victorian Gem set Butterfly POA

A charming and finely detailed Victorian butterfly brooch beautifully capturing the elegance and symbolism of 19th-century jewellery design. The butterfly's wings are delicately set with sapphires, rubies, and rose-cut diamonds, creating a harmonious blend of colour and soft antique sparkle. The body is formed from pearls, adding balance and refinement to the design.

Rich in detail and craftsmanship, this brooch exemplifies the Victorian fascination with nature and romantic motifs.

The piece is secured with a single pin fastener, allowing it to be worn confidently as a statement jewel or treasured as a collector's piece.

Length: 3.2 cm approximate

Width: 4.4 cm approximate at the widest point

Antique ref: FTJPUIX12110223