

Chinese blue and white charger, Kangxi (1662-1722) POA

Chinese blue and white charger, Kangxi (1662-1722), with barbed rim, decorated in underglaze blue with a central roundel containing a large lotus head amongst curling foliage, encircled by a band of ruyi-heads and two radiating bands of ogee-topped petal-shaped panels containing various flowers including chrysanthemum, dianthus, peony and prunus, against cellular diaper ground, the reverse with three fruiting sprays and a central artemisia mark within a double circle to the base; diameter: 38cm. (15 in.); condition: haircrack and some chips and frits to rim all restored to a high standard

Material and Technique	Porcelain with underglaze cobalt blue decoration
Origin	Chinese
Period	18th Century
Condition	Good
Diameter	38cm. (15 in.)

Antique ref: W761