This Sekonda Strela 3017 Chronograph made in the late 50's or 60's in the USSR is in fine working order having passed through the hands of our watchmaker.

With a Movement 21 made by Poljot in Russia it is a rare watch to find in this condition. Built to a very high standard for the era it's a hard working movement that has become something of an icon in the watch world because they survived rigorous use and little servicing due to initial purchase price.

A noted recent hand change actually compliments the watch. Beautiful silvered dial that has aged naturally.

Stainless steel case with a screwback caseback. Measuring 45 t 36mm lug to lug the case size its is 36mm across.

Fitted to an unsigned generic brown leather strap.
