

Italian 14ct Gold & Onyx Bead Necklace | Sleek Mid-Century Design, c.1960s
POA

Chic, sculptural, and effortlessly elegant - this 1960s Italian necklace pairs smooth, matte onyx beads with polished 14ct gold spheres, creating a bold yet elegant rhythm around the neckline.

It measures 41.5cm long - the perfect collarbone length - and closes with a classic Italian barrel clasp in solid gold.

The combination of deep black and rich gold feels both vintage and timelessly chic, but the matte texture gives it a modern edge - subtle, sleek, and quietly glamorous.

It was made in Italy at a time when jewellery design was all about clean lines, confident minimalism, and craftsmanship you can feel just by holding it.

Wear it on bare skin with an open neckline, or over a black turtleneck for that perfect mid-century silhouette.

It layers beautifully, but stands alone effortlessly.

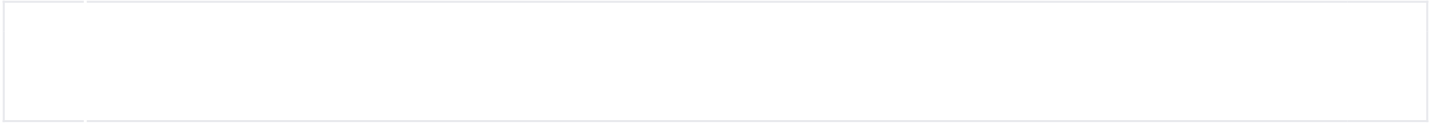

Understated, polished, and endlessly wearable - this is Italian design at its most refined.
