

Peridot & Diamond Cluster Ring | Edwardian c.1910s POA

A luminous Edwardian ring, made in England around 1910, set with a vivid 3.5 carat peridot and framed by a scalloped halo of old cut diamonds totalling approximately 0.70 carats, each one set in platinum to compliment their brilliance.

The gallery is finely pierced, with a warm 18ct gold shank.

Just as captivating and elegant over a century later.
