

Diamond Brooch in 18ct Gold | 4.5 Carats | British c.1950s POA

A brooch from the 1950s, made in England and set in 18ct gold with approximately 4.5 carats of diamonds.

Designed in a radiating floral motif, it's open in form yet rich in brilliance - a balance of structure and sparkle.

The diamonds are I-J in colour and SI clarity, adding warmth and life to the overall design.

Measuring approximately 4cm in diameter, it wears with poise - as a lapel piece, on silk, or pinned into hair.

Elegant, intricate, and finely made - a classic example of mid-century English diamond work.

Available exclusively at ELTONS, Grays Antique Market, Mayfair, London.
