

Old Cut Diamond Ring in Platinum & 18ct Gold | English c.1920s POA

A timeless early Art Deco diamond ring, crafted in England in the 1920s from 18 carat yellow gold with a sculpted platinum setting.

At its centre sits a lively old European cut diamond of approximately 0.65 carats. The stone is held in a finely scalloped platinum collet that fans around the diamond like petals, with delicately hand pierced floral shoulders.

Romantic and understated, this ring would make a distinctive engagement or heirloom piece.

Currently size P½.
