Lets be clear from the start, this Omega Seamster DeVille is certainly not the cheapest one around however let us explain why this particular example is worthy of its price.

This Omega Seamaster Deville 166.020 is dated to 1966 as the first point of sale and is on a 228 serial number. All original, recent service and with the original bracelet too along with a new strap.

35mm stainless steel gold plated case with an Omega crown still fitted. Omega Seamaster stamped case back. The dial being silver linen with gold baton hour markers and hands marked Swiss Made and with the date at 3.

Bracelet - The original and marked Omega clasp will fit a wrist to 17cm however we have fitted to a new generic beige leather strap.

This Omega has an automatic movement powered by a 562 Calibre that as mentioned has been fully serviced and runs at around 10 seconds per day.

Insured shipping or collection from Mayfair, London the box, papers and our 12 month guarantee come with this watch,

Condition - Scratches and marks to the case and bracelet as you would expect however in our view nothing significant and can be polished upon request. Dial and Plexiglass in excellent condition.

Sometimes it might be worth paying a little more to get an exceptional piece in fine working order!
