A fresh new arrival this IWC Spitfire reference IW371704 is in exceptional condition and in fine working order. Presented as watch, inner and outer box, manuals and Warranty card dated 2010.

This is the black dial chronograph version and it should be noted and the price reflects that the watch is one an aftermarket high quality brown leather strap and comes with a green 'Delugs' rubber strap and generic deployment clasp. The original steel bracelet is NOT included however we can source this or a genuine IWC strap if required. We have chosen to keep the price down and sell as is.

42mm stainless steel case with smooth steel bezel with both the case and the sapphire scratch resistant crystal being in excellent condition.

Black dial with luminous number hour markers in white to match the white filled hands. Day date window at 3.

Automatic 79320 calibre movement provides a power reserve of around 44 hours. Perfectly running order at +/- 3 seconds per day and a healthy amplitude of 240.

Both straps appear in excellent condition, this watch has clearly been very well looked after. In our view this IWC Fleigeruhr / Spitfire watch represents excellent value and included in that price is insured shipping and a 12 month guarantee.
