Bell & Ross Vintage BR123-95-SP | Automatic | 43mm | Black Sunburst Dial

The Bell & Ross Vintage BR123-95-SP embodies the brand's signature fusion of heritage aviation design and modern watchmaking precision. Drawing inspiration from the instrument panels of mid-20th-century aircraft, this piece combines legibility, functionality, and refined craftsmanship.

Housed in a 43mm stainless steel case, the BR123 features a polished and elegantly balanced profile that sits comfortably on the wrist. The black sunburst dial offers rich tonal depth under shifting light, complemented by applied bronze baton markers and Arabic numerals at 3, 9, and 12 o'clock — an unmistakable hallmark of Bell & Ross's vintage aesthetic.

A discreet date aperture between 4 and 5 o'clock maintains symmetry, while the slim hands and minute markers provide optimal readability. Turning the watch over reveals a sapphire exhibition caseback, showcasing the automatic Bell & Ross Calibre BR-CAL.305 — reliable, precise, and beautifully finished.

Paired with a light brown leather strap and signed deployment clasp, this watch offers both comfort and enduring elegance. Water-resistant to 100 meters, though we recommend avoiding immersion to preserve the leather.
