Price: £1950.00

This Omega Seamaster Chronostop 145.007 from 1968/9 has an original dial that has beautifully aged to give a wonderful patina. The white ring had naturally discoloured to give an almost burnt look or effect.

A truly rare find as this Chronostop is unlike any others and has the box (later Omega box), Original wallet, Omega Warranty papers, instructions and purchase receipt (first sold in April 1969) for the princely sum of £38.10.

In fine working order we believe this watch to also have the original Omega clasp and black leather strap.

41mm steel cushion shape case. Black dial with originally white ring around it. Striking orange second hand all functions work as they should

Operating from the legendary 865 manual wind movement which should give a power reserve of up to 40 hours.

Plexiglass and due to age not considered waterproof.

Provided with a 12 month guarantee and ready for next day delivery.

Condition -Marks, scratches etc consistent with age, we have certainly not polished. Plexi could be replaced upon request but for us it's best left as it is.

Working Order -Running at give or take +/- 20 seconds per day, amplitude 286. Can be serviced upon request at additional cost.

Our View - Absolutely worthy of any collection and if this is the model you are looking for don't miss out these are hard to find with everything accompanying it.
