

Vintage Omega Constellation Linen Dial Men's. Reference 168.017 SP
£1,195.00

Up for sale is a stunning 1968 Omega Constellation "C-Case", reference 168.017 SP, featuring the highly regarded Caliber 564 automatic chronometer movement with quickset date. Designed by Gerald Genta, this model is one of the most iconic Constellations of the 1960s.

? Key Features:

Year: 1968 (movement serial: 26433720)

Reference: 168.017 SP

Movement: Omega Cal. 564, automatic chronometer, quickset date

Dial: Rare linen-textured dial with applied indices and Omega logo

Case: Original stainless steel "C-Case" design with screw-down caseback

Crystal: Acrylic (with Omega logo)

Crown: Signed Omega crown

Caseback: Constellation medallion with observatory logo

Size: ~35mm (excluding crown)

Bracelet: Original Omega bracelet with signed Omega clasp

? Condition:

This is a used vintage watch. The case shows some discoloration to the gold plating and light wear consistent with age. The linen dial has minor marks, but remains very attractive and retains its vintage charm. The original Omega bracelet with signed clasp is included and shows normal wear for its age. The movement runs and keeps time, though service history is unknown.

This is a chance to own a true piece of Omega history — a vintage chronometer-certified Constellation with the desirable linen dial, original bracelet, and original clasp. Perfect for collectors or everyday wear.
