

Ruby and Diamond Woven 18ct Gold Earrings Circa 1960s £1,950.00

A striking and beautifully constructed pair of ruby and diamond earrings crafted in 18ct yellow gold, designed in an elegant woven motif that highlights movement, symmetry, and colour. Each earring is set with vibrant, well-matched calibre-cut rubies, arranged in seamless curved channels that showcase their rich pink-red hue and precision cutting.

Interlaced between the rubies are finely set brilliant-cut diamonds, adding contrast and sparkle while enhancing the dimensional, sculptural feel of the design. The craftsmanship is exceptional — the rubies are meticulously cut to fit each curved section, creating a smooth, uninterrupted visual flow.

Striking yet refined, these earrings sit beautifully on the ear and offer an elevated, timeless aesthetic. Perfect for both evening wear and everyday elegance, they make a sophisticated addition to any fine jewellery collection.

Antique ref: 0152