

Downstairs at Grays: A fine pair of Natural Pearl and Old European Cut Diamond Cluster Earrings in Platinum & 18ct Gold (tested), Mounts. Circa 1930.
POA

A captivating pair of Art Deco treasures, these Natural Pearl and Old European Cut Diamond Cluster Earrings are a testament to the refined elegance of Circa 1930 design. Beautifully crafted with Platinum (950) & 18ct Gold Mounts, they effortlessly capture the timeless sophistication that high-end vintage jewellery is celebrated for.

At the heart of each earring is a stunning Natural Saltwater Button Shaped Pearl. These rare gems have been independently assessed as 6.56 - 6.78 mm, displaying a beautiful White/Cream hue with a lovely Orient lustre, and lightly spotted characteristics signify their authentic origin.

Encircling the Pearls is a radiant Halo Style Border featuring 26 Old European Cut Diamonds. Carefully measured and assessed in their mounts, these diamonds offer a combined weight of 1.55 Carats, boasting an impressive G - H - I Colour & VS1 - VS2 Clarity.

Designed for both elegance and ease of wear, these beautiful classic Pearl & Diamond Earrings are finished with modern post and "comfort" styled fittings, making them perfect for both daily enjoyment and special evening occasions.

For complete peace of mind, they are accompanied by an Independent Gemmologist’s Report confirming the above assessment.
