

Georg Adam Scheid Art Nouveau Silver Bracelet - Saddingtons Jewellery Stand 375
£750.00

Sophisticated Georg Adam Scheid Art Nouveau Silver Bracelet. An exceptional Art Nouveau silver and garnet bracelet by renowned Austrian designer Georg Adam Scheid, circa 1880, with G A S hallmark on the back. Crafted in richly detailed silver, the bracelet is formed from alternatingopenwork links combining flowing scrollwork with bold sculptural face motifs, accented throughoutwith deep red garnets. At the centre sits a dramatic high-relief portrait medallion depicting aRenaissance-style gentleman in a broad plumed hat, rendered with remarkable sculptural depth andexpression. The medallion possesses the character of a miniature Renaissance portrait plaque,giving the bracelet an unusually artistic presence. The design beautifully reflects the artisticexperimentation of the Austrian Vienna Secession and Neo-Renaissance Art Nouveau movement,where jewellery often blended mythology, historic revivalism and sculptural craftsmanship into highlyindividual wearable works of art. The oxidised silver finish enhances the depth and architecturalquality of the bracelet, while the garnets add warmth and contrast against the cool silver tones. Thebracelet features a hidden box clasp fastening. Bold, unusual and highly collectable, this braceletwears as both a historic artistic object and a striking contemporary statement piece. The braceletmeasures at 19.8cm long, the central piece has a diameter of 3.2cm.
