

2.82ct Diamond Gypsy Ring in 18k Yellow Gold
£11,500.00

A striking and beautifully weighted three-stone diamond gypsy ring, crafted in rich 18k yellow gold and set with a known weight of 2.82ct of old-cut diamonds.

Timeless, sculptural, and effortlessly elegant, this exceptional ring captures everything collectors seek in the finest gypsy-set designs — substantial gold, beautifully proportioned old-cut stones, and a smooth architectural silhouette that feels as contemporary today as it did over a century ago.

The ring showcases a commanding central old-cut diamond of 1.37ct, flanked by two beautifully matched old-cut diamonds totalling 1.45ct combined. Each stone displays the broad, lively facet patterns and romantic fire associated with antique hand-cut diamonds, giving the piece a warmth and individuality impossible to replicate in modern production jewellery.

Unlike lighter examples often encountered on the market, this ring has exceptional substance at 10.65 grams, with a deeply carved and beautifully polished mount that sits low and comfortably on the hand. The classic flush “gypsy” setting offers both durability and understated sophistication, allowing the diamonds to appear seamlessly embedded within the gold itself.

There is a quiet confidence to this piece — luxurious without ever feeling ostentatious. It wears beautifully alone yet carries enough presence to anchor an entire jewellery collection.

A superb heirloom-quality ring equally suited as a statement dress ring, collector’s piece, or alternative engagement ring.
