

Ceylon Sapphire & Diamond Halo Ring in Platinum £2,750.00

A beautifully composed sapphire ring, centred around a vivid 0.83ct oval-cut Ceylon sapphire, framed by an elegant surround of calibr -cut sapphires totalling approximately 0.26ct, all meticulously set in luxurious platinum.

Refined and quietly sophisticated, this piece draws inspiration from the timeless cluster rings of the Edwardian and Art Deco eras, whilst maintaining a distinctly contemporary elegance. The richly saturated blue sapphire at its centre displays the lively brilliance and velvety depth associated with fine Sri Lankan sapphires, enhanced by the darker concentric sapphire halo which creates remarkable visual depth and contrast.

Delicate diamond-set shoulders add a subtle flash of light, balancing the intense blue tones beautifully, whilst the finely executed millegrain detailing throughout the setting lends the ring an unmistakably high-end finish.

Crafted in PT950 platinum, the ring sits gracefully on the hand with an effortlessly wearable profile — equally suited as a statement dress ring, alternative engagement ring, or collector’s sapphire piece.

An exceptionally elegant jewel with a timeless “quiet luxury” aesthetic.
