

Wood Netsuke POA

Fine Edo period Japanese wood Netsuke of a Sarumawashi (monkey trainer) and his monkey. The Sarumawashi was a street entertainer who performed tricks with his monkey. The little monkey is depicted crawling over the back of the seasoned trainer reclining with a tired expression. The finely carved figure of good patina, the underside with twin himotoshi circa 1820

| | |
|-------------------------------|---------------------|
| Material and Technique | Wood |
| Origin | Japanese |
| Period | 19th Century |
| Style | Classical |
| Condition | Excellent |
| Hallmark | Unsigned |
| Dimensions | 4.5cms w x 2.5cms h |