

Antique Toi et Moi Diamond Crossover Ring - Saddingtons Jewellery
Stand 375
£995.00

Antique Toi et Moi Diamond Crossover Ring. This elegant Edwardian Toi et Moi diamond ring is crafted in platinum and features two beautifully matched transitional brilliant cut diamonds with a combined weight of approximately 0.50 carats. The diamonds are set in smooth rub-over settings and positioned side by side in the timeless "Toi et Moi" design, French for "You and Me". A symbol of two souls joined together, the Toi et Moi style has remained one of the most romantic ring designs for over two centuries. Popular during the Edwardian period, these rings were often given as tokens of love and commitment, with the paired gemstones representing two individuals united as one. The diamonds are colour G-H and VS2 clarity. The graceful crossover design creates a flowing silhouette across the finger, while the platinum setting provides both durability and understated elegance. Refined, romantic and effortlessly wearable, this Edwardian diamond ring would make a beautiful addition to any antique jewellery collection or a meaningful alternative engagement ring.
