

Cartier San
£2,650.00

If you want a watch that effortlessly nails the balance between casual and dressy, the Cartier Santos Galbée is about as good as it gets. The Santos line is legendary as the world’s first purpose-built wristwatch, but what makes the "Galbée" version so great is how it handles on the wrist. Cartier subtly curved the lugs and case profile so it contours around your wrist beautifully instead of sitting flat like a standard square watch. Inside, it runs on a rock-solid, precise Cartier quartz movement, making it the ultimate grab-and-go watch that you never have to worry about setting.
This particular piece is a total time capsule. It is in unpolished, mint condition, meaning all those razor-sharp factory angles, brushed finishes, and bright polished bevels are completely intact. The iconic gloss white dial looks incredibly clean with its bold black Roman numerals and signature blued-steel sword hands.
To make it even better for a collector, it’s a complete set with its original, officially stamped papers from 2015. Finding a late-era Galbée that hasn't been polished or worn down, especially one with its original paperwork, is becoming seriously tough to do. It's a gorgeous, worry-free classic.
