

Cartier Pant
£3,095.00

If you want a timeless luxury icon that has completely dominated the watch world for decades, the Cartier Panthère is pretty much the ultimate choice. It's really more of a piece of jewelry that just happens to tell the time, giving you that effortlessly elegant, classic Parisian look that never goes out of style.

The biggest deal for collectors with this specific piece is the condition: it comes with a totally unpolished case and bracelet. If you've been looking around the vintage market, you know that so many old Cartiers get buffed and polished to death to get rid of scratches, which ruins those crisp factory edges. Finding one that hasn't been touched is getting incredibly tough. The geometry of the square bezel and the way the brick-link bracelet sits are exactly how Cartier intended.

It has all those classic Cartier details you want—the off-white dial, bold black Roman numerals, the inner railway minute track, blued steel hands, and that signature blue cabochon gem right there on the crown. It's the 27mm "Medium" size, which is super versatile, looks fantastic on both men and women, and feels like a lightweight second skin on the wrist.

To make things completely easy for you, we just threw a brand-new battery in it. It’s powered by a rock-solid Swiss quartz movement, it's ticking perfectly, and it is completely ready for you to strap on and walk out the door.
