Hublot Classic Fusion 542.NX.1171.RX – 42mm – Titanium – Full Set – 2024

A refined and modern luxury piece, this Hublot Classic Fusion Titanium offers the perfect balance of understated elegance and sporty design. Presented as a full set from October 2024, this example is in good overall condition and represents superb value for a near-new Hublot and saving of over £2k too! We handle a large volume of watches, but this one genuinely stands out — the kind of piece that feels far more impressive in person than photos can ever capture.

Our View

The Classic Fusion range is all about understated luxury, and this 42mm titanium example delivers that perfectly. Lightweight yet premium, it offers a level of comfort that makes it ideal for daily wear, while still carrying unmistakable Hublot design cues.

The clean black dial and signature bezel design give it a contemporary but timeless appeal. With minimal wear, this is a fantastic opportunity to acquire a modern Hublot at a compelling price point — and one that feels even better in the hand than the photos suggest.
