

1923 Octagonal Signet Ring - Saddingtons Jewellery Stand 375
£1,495.00

1923 Octagonal Signet Ring. A distinguished 18ct yellow gold signet ring, hallmarked in London for 1923, featuring a classic polished octagonal signet face. Beautifully proportioned with gently tapering shoulders. The octagonal head offers a sophisticated alternative to the traditional oval signet, its clean geometric lines reflecting the growing influence of Art Deco design whilst retaining the timeless elegance of earlier signet rings. Left unengraved, the mirror-polished face provides the perfect canvas for a personal monogram, family crest or bespoke intaglio engraving, or may simply be appreciated for its minimalist beauty. Inside the ring features the London 1923 hallmark alongside an 18ct stamp and a C.G&S makers mark. Crafted in rich 18ct yellow gold weighing 9.1g, the ring has a substantial yet comfortable profile, making it ideal for everyday wear. Signet rings have long symbolised heritage, identity and personal style, remaining one of the most enduring forms of jewellery from generation to generation.
