Our View

The Constellation has always been Omega's flagship luxury collection, but references such as the 1160.60.00 take things to another level. The combination of warm 18ct red gold, rich brown dial and factory-set diamonds creates a look that is both opulent and remarkably sophisticated.

Unlike many gem-set watches, this piece remains elegant and balanced, with the diamonds complementing rather than dominating the design. The integrated red gold bracelet completes the look beautifully and gives the watch tremendous presence despite its refined dimensions.

As a discontinued reference, examples of this quality are becoming increasingly difficult to source. For anyone seeking a truly special Omega that stands apart from the crowd, this is a superb opportunity.
