

Edwardian Ruby & Diamond Cluster Ring - Saddingtons Jewellery Stand 375
£795.00

A charming Edwardian Ruby & Diamond Cluster Ring, beautifully handcrafted in 9ct yellow gold and dating to the early twentieth century. The ring is centred by a vibrant round-cut natural ruby, encircled by a sparkling halo of old-cut diamonds in a timeless cluster design. A further ruby is claw set to each shoulder, adding balance and colour to the design while beautifully framing the central cluster. The rich pinkish-red rubies contrast elegantly with the lively sparkle of the old-cut diamonds, creating a ring that is both refined and full of period charm. The pierced gallery and finely detailed claw settings reflect the elegant craftsmanship of the Edwardian era, when jewellers favoured light, graceful designs with meticulous attention to detail. The warm tones of the yellow gold complement the gemstones beautifully, enhancing the brilliance of the diamonds and the vivid colour of the rubies. The ring can be resized.
