

Victorian Burma Ruby & Diamond Hexagonal Cluster Ring - Saddingtons Jewellery Stand 375
£1,895.00

A beautiful Victorian Burma Ruby & Diamond Hexagonal Cluster Ring, crafted in 15ct gold and set with a striking arrangement of natural Burmese rubies surrounding a central old-cut diamond that weighs 0.20ct. The vivid pink red rubies are arranged in a hexagonal cluster around a bright old-cut diamond, all framed by a delicate border of sparkling rose-cut diamonds. The contrasting old and rose-cut diamonds add wonderful texture and period charm, while the richly saturated rubies provide exceptional colour. The elegant pierced gallery is supported by graceful open shoulders with scroll detailing, allowing light to pass beneath the cluster while lending the ring an airy, refined appearance. The fine craftsmanship and harmonious proportions make this an outstanding example of late Victorian gemstone jewellery. This ring can be resized.
