Our View

This is one of the most attractive ladies' Aquaracer models TAG Heuer produced. The 32mm case gives the watch excellent wrist presence, while the blue sunray dial adds a level of sophistication not often found in sports watches.

The combination of robust 300m water resistance, screw-down crown and reliable quartz movement makes it a genuine everyday watch, yet it remains elegant enough for more formal occasions. As a discontinued model, examples such as this are becoming increasingly difficult to source, particularly with their original boxes and warranty card.

A superb opportunity to acquire a sought-after modern TAG Heuer that effortlessly combines sportiness and elegance.
