Our View

The Reverso remains one of the most important watch designs ever created. Originally developed in the 1930s, its reversible case and elegant proportions have ensured its status as a true horological icon.

This reference is particularly appealing thanks to its manual-wind movement, which offers a more traditional ownership experience and a closer connection to the mechanics within. The clean dial, Arabic numerals and blued hands create a timeless combination that remains effortlessly stylish.

Freshly serviced, fitted with a new strap and featuring an unengraved caseback, this is a superb opportunity to acquire a classic Jaeger-LeCoultre Reverso that is ready to wear and enjoy.
