Our View

The Piaget 12501 is a true expression of 1970s high luxury, defined by purity of form and technical brilliance. The legendary Calibre 12P was a pioneer of ultra-thin watchmaking, and its influence is still felt today. The standout white dial, free of markers, elevates this piece to something quietly exceptional. This is a watch worthy of any serious collection and a lasting testament to Piaget’s mastery of refined watchmaking.
