Our View

A standout vintage Cartier in superb original condition, this watch has everything going for it. The larger Tank case wears beautifully on the wrist, while the freshly serviced manual-wind movement offers a wonderfully traditional ownership experience.

What truly sets this example apart is the rare Discor dial. The champagne sunburst guilloché effect creates a remarkable play of light across the dial, giving the watch a luxurious appearance that is rarely encountered on Must de Cartier models. The subtle spidering visible under certain conditions only enhances its vintage charm and authenticity.

For collectors seeking something more unusual than the typical Must de Cartier Tank, this rare dial variant represents a fantastic opportunity.
