Cartier Tank Solo 2743 18ct Yellow Gold – Box & Papers

Cartier Tank Solo 2743 – An elegant and timeless example of one of Cartier's most recognisable designs, crafted in 18ct yellow gold and presented with its original box and papers dated 12/02/2008. With its clean lines, white Roman numeral dial and slim profile, the Tank Solo perfectly embodies the understated sophistication that has made the Tank collection a design icon for over a century.

Presented in excellent working order, this example benefits from a high-quality new leather strap and remains unpolished, retaining its original character and crisp case definition. Minor marks consistent with careful wear are present, and the watch can be professionally polished upon request.

Our View

Few watches can claim the same level of design pedigree as the Cartier Tank. Originally inspired by the lines of military vehicles viewed from above, the Tank has become one of the most influential watch designs ever created and remains a cornerstone of Cartier's collection.

The Tank Solo stays true to the original formula with its elegant rectangular case, Roman numeral dial and understated proportions. This 18ct yellow gold example is particularly attractive thanks to its excellent overall condition, original box and papers, and unpolished case. Combined with a quality new leather strap, it offers all the charm and sophistication expected of a classic Cartier dress watch.

An effortlessly stylish watch that remains as relevant and desirable today as when it was first sold.
