

Omega Spe
£3,800.00

Watch: Omega Speedmaster 145.029
Stock Number: CHW7637
Price: £3800

Omega Seamaster Chronograph 145.029 Calibre 861 1970 Blue Dial

Omega Seamaster Chronograph 145.029 – An exceptionally rare and highly collectible Omega chronograph from 1970, sharing much of its DNA with the legendary Speedmaster while possessing a character entirely of its own. Rare in any configuration, this particular example is especially desirable thanks to its striking blue dial, complemented by vivid orange hands and chronograph accents, a combination seldom encountered and hugely appealing to collectors.

Dating to 1970 by serial number, this Seamaster Chronograph is powered by the renowned manual-wind Omega Calibre 861 movement. Presented in exceptional condition throughout, it features a 39mm stainless steel cushion-shaped case that retains sharp edges and shows remarkably few signs of wear. Having recently undergone a comprehensive service by renowned Omega specialist watchmaker Simon Freese in November 2026, the watch is offered in outstanding mechanical condition and ready to be enjoyed.

Key Details

• Model: Omega Seamaster Chronograph
• Reference: 145.029
• Year: 1970
• Case Size: 39mm
• Case Material: Stainless Steel
• Case Shape: Cushion
• Dial: Blue
• Hour Markers: Applied Baton Markers
• Hands: Orange and Steel Hands
• Crystal: Acrylic Crystal
• Movement: Manual Wind
• Calibre: Omega 861
• Strap: New Generic Leather Strap
• Functions: Hours, Minutes, Running Seconds, Chronograph
• Most Recent Service: November 2026 by Simon Freese
• Guarantee: 12-Month Mechanical Guarantee

Condition Report

Case: Good condition with a few blemishes.
Dial: Beautiful blue dial in outstanding condition with excellent colour and presentation.
Hands & Markers: Original orange and steel hands in excellent condition.
Crystal: Clean and clear with only minimal signs of use.
Strap: New generic leather strap fitted.
Overall: A remarkably well-preserved example of an exceptionally rare Omega chronograph.

Working Order

The Omega Calibre 861 manual-wind movement has just undergone a full comprehensive service.

Serviced in November 2026 by renowned Omega specialist watchmaker Simon Freese.

All chronograph functions operate correctly and the watch is running exactly as intended.

Supplied with our 12-month mechanical guarantee.

Our View

The reference 145.029 occupies a fascinating place in Omega's history. Often overshadowed by the Speedmaster, it shares the celebrated Calibre 861 movement while offering a completely different aesthetic thanks to its distinctive cushion case and Seamaster branding.