TAG Heuer Professional 2000 WK1313-0 Ladies Quartz 28mm

TAG Heuer Professional 2000 WK1313-0 – A classic ladies' sports watch from one of Switzerland's most recognised manufacturers, combining everyday practicality with timeless styling. Featuring a navy blue dial, robust stainless steel construction and reliable quartz movement, the Professional 2000 series has long been appreciated for its durability, versatility and attractive design.

Presented in good overall condition and fitted to its original stainless steel bracelet, this example remains a highly wearable and increasingly sought-after ladies' sports watch. The deep navy dial contrasts beautifully against the steel case and bracelet, creating a look that is both sporty and elegant.

Our View

The Professional 2000 range helped establish TAG Heuer as a leader in practical luxury sports watches throughout the 1980s and 1990s. Today these models are becoming increasingly sought after thanks to their dependable construction, understated styling and excellent value when compared with modern equivalents.

The navy blue dial is particularly attractive, adding depth and character while maintaining a versatile appearance suitable for everyday wear. At 28mm, it offers comfortable proportions while retaining the robust feel expected from a genuine sports watch.

A stylish, reliable and increasingly collectible ladies' TAG Heuer that continues to represent excellent value.
