The Carl F. Bucherer Patravi Eximia, reference 10.0162, is a refined and highly distinctive Swiss timepiece that perfectly reflects the brand's tradition of combining technical excellence with understated elegance. Produced in 2004, this example is offered as a complete full set, including its original box, papers, and accompanying accessories, making it an increasingly desirable proposition for collectors and enthusiasts alike.

The Eximia stands out for its balanced design, combining sophisticated styling with everyday wearability. Its finely detailed dial, quality case finishing, and superb craftsmanship exemplify the standards that have made Carl F. Bucherer one of Switzerland's most respected independent watchmakers. As a model that is no longer in production, it offers collectors the opportunity to acquire a lesser-seen reference from a brand with a rich horological heritage.
