Our View

The modern Constellation remains one of Omega's most recognisable designs, instantly identifiable thanks to its integrated bracelet, signature claws and distinctive case profile. This reference successfully combines those iconic design cues with the reliability and convenience of a quartz movement, making it an ideal everyday luxury watch.

The 35mm case size provides excellent versatility, offering a substantial wrist presence without feeling oversized. Combined with 100 metres of water resistance and robust construction, it is a watch that can be enjoyed daily while still retaining the elegance expected from the Constellation
