

Fabergé Tre
£3,650.00

An exceptional pair of cufflinks from the celebrated House of Fabergé, combining the rich heritage of Imperial Russian jewellery with understated contemporary elegance.

From the iconic Treillage collection, these beautifully crafted egg-shaped cufflinks draw their inspiration from the Diamond Trellis Egg, created by Peter Carl Fabergé in 1892. Their distinctive quilted design is executed in 18k brushed white gold, with polished detailing and 28 brilliant-cut white diamonds delicately set at the intersections of the trellis pattern.

With a substantial combined weight of 21.10 grams, the cufflinks possess a reassuringly luxurious feel, whilst the contrast between the satin-finished gold and sparkling diamonds creates a sophisticated and timeless aesthetic.

Originally retailed through Fabergé's London boutique in July 2016, they are presented complete with their original Fabergé presentation box, certificate of authenticity and insurance valuation.

A distinguished addition to any gentleman's jewellery collection and a wonderful opportunity to acquire a particularly desirable example of contemporary Fabergé craftsmanship.
