

Art Deco Diamond & Sapphire Ring | Triple Row with Channel Set Sapphires | English c.1930 POA

A striking Art Deco ring made in the 1930s, set with 1.3 carats of brilliant diamonds, clarity SI, and 0.55 carats of square-cut sapphires. Crafted in 18ct gold with a platinum top, it has the confident geometry and clean lines typical of the period.

The diamonds are set in three graduated rows, framing a central band of deep blue sapphires. The contrast is crisp and deliberate, designed to play with light and proportion. The ring has strong presence on the hand but remains easy to wear, with a low profile and solid construction.

Comfortable fit and highly wearable.

Size O.
