

18ct Gold & Diamond Daisy Cluster Ring | Edwardian c.1910s POA

A fine Edwardian daisy cluster ring, made in England around 1910.

Set in rich 18ct gold, it features a bright old cut diamond in a rub over setting, surrounded by ten smaller stones arranged like flower petals within a scalloped frame, edged in delicate millegrain.

An open gallery beneath allows light to pass through the stones, enhancing their antique sparkle.

A perfect choice for an antique engagement ring.

Ring size: O.
