

Antique 18ct Gold Bracelet | Engraved Floral Panels | French c.1880s POA

A striking antique French bracelet, made from rich 18ct gold and detailed with a repeating floral pattern across flexible, articulated panels.

Likely dating to the 1880s, its precise and rhythmic decoration is a product of early machine engraving, a technique that allowed for uniform elegance and became increasingly refined in the late 19th century.

The result is a piece that balances delicacy with structure: soft floral motifs enclosed within crisp geometric borders.

Finished with a secure clasp and subtle chain edge, it wears beautifully today: chic, understated, and unmistakably French in spirit.
