

Pearl & Emerald Gold Ring | Georgian c.1790s POA

This exquisite Georgian ring features a vivid foil backed emerald framed by a double halo of luminous seed pearls, arranged in a classic floral cluster design.

The setting is entirely Georgian in design and detail, while the 9ct gold shank is a later replacement, likely added in the 19th or early 20th century to preserve its wearability.

This is a common and careful update for antique rings and ensures the piece can continue to be worn and enjoyed without compromising its history.

Currently a UK size L, and in excellent antique condition.
