

Five Stone Turquoise & Gold Ring | English c.1930s POA

A vibrant five stone turquoise ring set in 9ct yellow gold, crafted in England by H. Williamson Ltd., a respected jeweller active throughout the early 20th century.

With smooth, graduated cabochons framed by delicate gold beading, the design carries all the hallmarks of 1930s Art Deco style.

The turquoise stones are particularly even in tone and so smoothly domed they resemble miniature duck eggs.

The ring is hallmarked 9ct with the maker's mark HW LD, is currently size N 1/2, and likely dates to the 1930s.

It sits low on the finger and wears beautifully on its own or stacked, offering a vibrant and fresh pop of colour.
