

River jade boulder on wooden stand
POA

This fine openwork is carved river jade stone, which represents a perfect example of Chinese jade artwork. You must see this item from all sides. Just look at the front side and appreciate the image. There is an image of a small village. Right in front of us, there is a huge tree, which is carved in small details. Ont the background we can see some houses and even a figure of an old man. The whole image is full of home and family energy. But that's not all - rotate the sculpture and you will see a magnificent natural pattern. Looks like that this stone has just been dug up. The whole piece has a very strong energy that will fill your home with luck and prosperity. The sculpture is made of one solid stone and mounted on a wooden stand. Such a mascot will become an excellent source of positively charged energy.
