

Garnet & Turquoise Dress Clips | Dorrie Nossiter | Art Deco c.1930s POA

A rare pair of Art Deco dress clips by pioneering British jeweller Dorrie Nossiter, celebrated for her opulent designs and fearless use of colour.

Crafted in the 1930s, these sculptural floral bursts are set in silver with approx. 10 carats of rich almandine garnets and vibrant cabochon turquoise, arranged in Nossiter's signature layered construction. Each clip measures c. 4cm across and features a strong reverse fitting for secure wear.

Dress clips were the glamorous, convertible accessory of the era, clipped to necklines, lapels, belts or cuffs.

Today, they're equally versatile: styled on collars, scarves or hats

Just as glamorous now as they were then, they bring instant drama and colour to any look.

For more information, to view a video of the ring or to purchase this ring online, please visit our website at www.eltonantiquejewellery.com

ELTONS

Origin	British
Period	1930s
Materials	Silver
Main Gemstone	Garnet
Main Gemstone Carat	approx 10 carats
Diameter	approx 4cm each
Secondary Gemstone	Turquoise