

Bernard Instone Arts & Crafts Ring | Carnelian Cabochon, Silver & 9ct Gold | English c.1930s
POA

This distinctive English ring, made in the 1930s, is a beautifully preserved example of the Arts and Crafts movement, designed and hallmarked by celebrated jeweller Bernard Instone (9ct & SILVER BI).

Set with a glowing carnelian cabochon, the ring combines cool silver floral detailing with a warm 9ct gold band.

The ring size is M, and the smooth deep red carnelian, is framed by a hand worked silver surround of stylised leaves and petals, a nod to Instone's lifelong connection to nature.

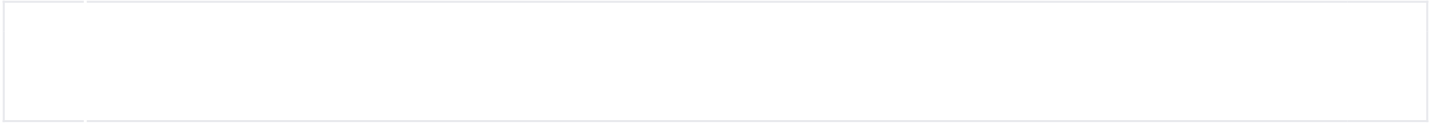

Bernard Instone was born in Kings Norton in 1891 and trained under Arthur Gaskin at the Birmingham School of Jewellery. By the 1930s, his work had become a defining voice within British Arts and Crafts jewellery.

Measures approximately 2.8cm x 2.8cm.
